

3782212053376 pages | File size: 60.Mb

Manfred Stein

*DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF | ePub

[Read download] Prisoner of War: Bone Ship Models - Treasures from the Age of Napoleonic Wars

Prisoner of War: Bone Ship Models - Treasures from the Age of Napoleonic Wars

Manfred Stein : Prisoner of War: Bone Ship Models - Treasures from the Age of Napoleonic Wars before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Prisoner of War: Bone Ship Models - Treasures from the Age of Napoleonic Wars:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. A beautiful and awesome book!By Larry from AtlantaA wonderful book on prisoner of war ship models! It showcases the bone models of the PeterTamm Collection at the International Maritime Museum in Hamburg, Germany. There are hundreds of color photographs on almost every page of this 380 page book -- complete with many closeups of small features such as figureheads, transoms, boats, etc. One thing that is bit odd about this awe inspiring book is that it contains some full page color advertisements. However, the translation from German to English is excellent.

During 1792-1815, the period of the Coalition Wars and the Napoleonic Wars between France and Europe, prisoners were taken on both sides. The majority of them were confined, sometimes for many years, in England and Scotland. Some of the prisoners built ship models from scraps of wood or mutton and beef bones. Rigging was made of silk or whatever other fine material could be obtained. The prisoners developed an art form and the models were sold to the public through the guards. This trade enabled the prisoner to acquire ivory and special tools to make the models all the more decorative. The remain highly sought after and valuable collectors' items to this day. This book shows the beauty of the models selected as the finest in the Peter Tamm Collection in the International Maritime Museum of Hamburg.

About the AuthorSince his retirement in 2010 Manfred Stein has been working in an honorary capacity at Altona

Museum Hamburg and has been involved with the museums bone ship collection. He lives with his family in Hamburg.