Great piece which deserves to be owned by every wine lover out there..2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. A must have for any serious wine drinkerBy Patty BallingerThis book is amazing. It has detailed maps of virtually every wine-growing region in the world. The maps show not only the typical geographical information of the region, but even shows the location of important vineyards and wineries in the region. It is really cool to be able to open a bottle of wine and then to see exactly where it was made! The text that accompanies each map talks about the geography and terroir and it gives an overview of the wines of that region. Highly recommended. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. If you have the 6th Edition, don't bother buying this one. By HELIO PADULAI didn't find much difference between this and the previous Edition.... I live in Brazil and have been drinking a lot of South American wine, having "discovered" many not-so-famous producers. The same with Portuguese and Spanish wines. So I thought Johnson and Robinson would produce a much wider chapter on those countries. Deception.... Nothing new....if you have the 6th Edition, don't bother buying this "new" one

The seventh edition will confirm the status of The World Atlas of Wine as the most essential and authoritative wine reference work. Reflecting the changing nature of the wine scene, the Atlas details developments in climate, technique and fashion as well as new regulations made over the last six years. A new Australian map highlights the importance of cool-climate regions as global warming takes effect, for example, while dynamic regions such as coastal Croatia, South Africa's Swartland and Ningxia in China are covered for the first time. The world's increasing appetite for wine is matched by a growing thirst for knowledge, which this book will amply satisfy.

"The World Atlas of Wine has always had extraordinary scope and the seventh edition is no different... Beautifully done." Bill Saporito, TIME Magazine "The most authoritative wine reference book available ... with words and graphics that set a new publishing standard on the subject." Fred Malkin, Oregon Magazine "The World Atlas of Wine is the single most important reference book on the shelf of any wine student." Eric Asimov, The New York Times "It's difficult to review 'The World Atlas of Wine' without gushing ... the 7th edition raises the bar again, primarily by maintaining its already high standard and expanding its maps and coverage of growing wine regions in China, Australia and North America." Joe Roberts, WineDude.com "If I owned only one wine book, it would be this one. And this edition, please." Andrew Jefford, Decanter "The essential rootstock of any true wine lover's library. A multi-layered snapshot of wine and how it has evolved." Dave McIntyre, Washington Post "Every wine lover's bible... pouring decades of wine knowledge into succinct paragraphs that place each country and region in context." LA Times "It is a testament to Johnson and Robinson's heroic efforts to create a true reference volume that they have surveyed the world and attempted to include the major changes that have come to the different regions of the world over the past few years." Tom Wark, Fermentation: The Daily Wine Blog "Simply put, there is no better wine reference book on the planet than the new, seventh edition of The World Atlas of Wine by Hugh Johnson and Jancis Robinson. It's an absolute must for wine enthusiasts: an essential, authoritative and beautifully produced wine companion." Ted Scheffler, Salt Lake City Weekly About the Author Jancis Robinson's award-winning books Vines, Grapes and Wine (1986) and the hugely successful Oxford Companion to Wine (1994, 1999, 2006), are landmarks in wine literature. Jancis is the Financial Times' wine correspondent and is critically acclaimed as the "woman who makes the wine world gulp when she speaks" (USA Today) and "our favorite wine writer" (Playboy). Jancis was the first person outside the wine trade to qualify as a Master of Wine, in 1984. She was awarded an OBE in 2003 and the Officier de l'Ordre du Mrite Agricole in 2010 by the French Minister of Agriculture. Hugh Johnson has led the world of wine writing in many new directions over the 40 years since his first book, Wine, was published. The World Atlas of Wine, his Wine Companion (now in its sixth edition), the annual Pocket Wine Book (since 1977), The Story of Wine, and his memoir, A Life Uncorked, have all been best-sellers. Indeed, his Pocket Wine is the world's best-selling annual wine book. His unique approach, serious and informed, yet entertaining and unpretentious, has earned him the admiration of wine lovers all over the world. In 2007, Hugh was awarded an OBE for services to winemaking.
