I get the sense tha Warman's guide is updated frequently. Comparing prices with eBay items I suspect the pricing, and popularity of Fiesta wares have changed.2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. GreatBy Linda RI like to shop for old pottery and pitchers. You never know if you are paying too much at an antique store. The first time I found out that I had paid 30.00 more than what a piece was worth I decided to educate myself on the worth of such pieces. When I go antique shopping now I have an ideal what items are worth. I use all of the collectors books that I have bought from . I have purchase books on Fire King/Anchor Hocking, Depression Glass, Coins, Carnival glass and others. has any book that you would ever want for a beginner collector.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. would like to know if there are any places or dealers ...By

The clean design and bright colours of the Fiesta dinnerware line - first introduced by the Homer Laughlin Co. in 1936 - caught the fancy of housewives everywhere, revolutionizing the market for tableware in the United States. Though originally offered in just five colours - red, ivory, cobalt blue, yellow and green - the number and variety of hues blossomed to include turquoise, rose, gray, forest green, chartreuse and medium green - one of the most popular and valuable. When the Fiesta line was reintroduced in 1986, after a hiatus from 1973 to 1985, collecting interest surged again. The passion for the vintage colours was reignited, and the line's new colours, including periwinkle, cinnabar and sunflower, created a stir amid a new generation of collectors. From the best of the old to the latest and greatest modern colours of the new, Warman's[registered] Fiesta Ware provides comprehensive expert advice and up-to-date pricing for the line that lent distinction to the plainest table. With more than 1,000 eye-appealing photographs, this colourful story is well told by author Mark F. Moran.
